Re: William Easton's statement that he knew nothing until story came out

Timothy Newell Pfeiffer, Esq.,
120 Broadway,
New York City.

Dear Sir:-

I called upon Robert C. Carlson, Principal of the New Brunswick High School relative to the statement which William Easton made to Leslie P. Johnson (my report of Sept. 24.) that he knew nothing about the murder until the story came out in the newspapers and the reporters came out to the farm.

Mr. Carlson claims that he does not recall ever having heard any conversation between Mr. Johnson.

He says that at the time both he and Brown were living at Mr. Johnson's house and that at present Brown is residing with him at 135 College Avenue, New Brunswick. He said that he would talk to Brown and see if Brown remembered it and that if he did, there might be something which Brown might suggest that would tend to refresh his recollection.

I am to meet he and Brown at their home to go over the matter.

Respectfully yours,

David Thompson.
